

The Bungendore Show

Photography hints from the judge:

What am I judging on -

PRINT QUALITY | Clear results | Use of quality photographic paper | Good colour that is balanced | No pixelation in final prints | Well mounted with no bubbles or creases | No track marks from printing process.

In all of the judging that I have performed in the past the one thing that lets many people down is the quality of their printing and mounting, from poor printing stock to poor quality printers that leave track marks throughout the photograph. Mounting photographs down to backing can also be problematic and can sometimes leave bubbles or creases and this can also dramatically decrease the quality of your submissions. Most of the photography results that I see are great, but poor printing and presentation can really let the image down.

Hopefully that clears things up for most people around why they may receive the scores they receive.
